1. The amendment and the Terminal Disclaimer submitted by Applicants on April 15, 2003 have been received and entered.
2. New claims 170-181 have been added.
3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: ✓

The closest prior art to the present invention is Bill et al. (U.S. Patent No. 5,754,475). Bill et al. disclosed a multiple-bits-per-cell flash EEPROM having a memory core array and a reference cell array. Bill et al. failed to show or suggest a combination of a second circuit for performing electrical write on the memory transistor until the threshold voltage of the memory transistor is higher than a first reference voltage and a third circuit for performing electrical write on the reference memory transistor until the threshold voltage of the reference memory transistor is higher than a second voltage as claimed in claims 1 and 91-169. Bill et al. also failed to show or suggest the combination of a first and second reference voltage supply electrically connected to a first and second input terminal of a sense amplifier circuit, a write circuit electrically connected to a verify circuit, the memory transistor and the reference memory transistor as claimed in claims 170-181.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
